General Breckinridge's Last Moments. LEXINGTON, KY., May 18.-General John 2. Breckinridge died of abscess of the loins, combined with consumption. His last bours were quiet and peaceful. On Sunday night he was very restless, and sent during the night for his regular physician, who adminstered an opiate to the suffererer; after which he slept until late next morning; then he was visited by Dr. Lewis Sayre, of New York, who dressed the wound made by the operation on Monday of last week. The docor, seeing that a discharge was taking place from the wound, expressed himself hopeful of the patient's rapid recovery with proper attention. After this the sufferer took some nourishment. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon change took piace for the worse, and his friends became alarmed. Stimulants were administered, but without effect. He sank rapidly until 5 o'clock, when he became

The General died at fifteen minutes to 6 o'clock. He was conscious apparently up to within a few minutes before his death. There was no scene, no last words. The only allusion he made to his death was-once after the operation had been performed on him last week by Drs. Sayre and Grossthat he felt so comfortable, and believed that mortification had set in; and again in his will, made the next day by Hon. James B. Beck, when he used these words: "After all my just debts, which are few and small, and the expense of a modest funeral are paid, I desire," &c. Around the death-bed of the General were his wife, two daughters, one son, and a few other immediate relatives. In accordance with the wish of the deceased and the desire of the family the funeral will be a modest one. It will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

PREPARED BY H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON, MASS.

WHAT IS VEGETINE? It is a compound extracted from barks, roots, and herb. It is nature's remedy. It is perfectly harmiess from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers; for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them unture's sweet sleep—as has been proved by many an aged nerson. It is the great blood-purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take: every child for our emidren. It has relieved and cured thou-sands. It is very pleasant to take: every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases origina-ting from impure blood. Try the VEGETINE. Give it a fair trial for your complaints: then you will say to your friend, neighbor, an i acquaintance, "Try it; it has cured me."

VEGETINE, for the complaints for which it is re-commended, is having a larger sale throughout the United States than any other one medicine. Why i VEGETINE WILL CURE THESE COMPLAINTS.
